

The Frank Porter Graham Child Development Institute brings together innovative research and state of the art professional development, technical assistance, and implementation science to generate transdisciplinary knowledge and inform policies and practices that create positive social, emotional, behavioral, physical, and academic outcomes for all children and youth, including those facing adversity and from diverse backgrounds. We do this by developing, implementing, and evaluating programs that directly enhance the well-being of children and youth as well as building the capacities of families, teachers, practitioners, administrators, and organizations.
