

Strategies for Supporting New Title I Guidance for Preschool

Written Materials

1. Send an informational article to relevant organizations that publish newsletters
  - Superintendent Organizations
  - Principal Organizations
  - School Board Associations
  - Teacher Unions
  - Head Start Associations
  - Child Care Associations
  - Advocacy Organizations
  - Public-Private Partnerships
  - Professional Development Organizations
  - Resource and Referral Organizations
  - Local Early Childhood Coalitions
2. Encourage organizations listed above to put information on their websites
3. Locate examples of Title I supporting preschool and highlight success stories
4. Develop Fact Sheets, Power Point presentations, and other materials to educate stakeholders about new Title I guidance

Face to Face Meetings

1. Recommend Title I guidance as an agenda item for an Early Learning Council Meeting
2. Write an article geared to LEA administrators and ask your state Superintendent to send it out under his or her name
3. Present Title I opportunities at local K-12 conferences in conjunction if possible with LEA staff
4. Present Title I opportunities at local early childhood conferences
5. Meet with State Education Department personnel to understand and encourage their support of using Title I for preschool
6. Meet with local superintendents and principals in Title I schools
7. Meet with local legislators to help them understand the advantages of using Title I for preschool
8. Meet with State and/or School District Title I Officer to understand how Title I funds are currently being spent and what future opportunities might be